Career Track Helped to Choose the Right Role

Jagdish Sheth School of Management's (JAGSoM) Career Track program has proven to be instrumental in helping its PGDM 21-23 batch with about 75% of the students successfully secured career track aligned job roles. The program, offered in collaboration with domain experts, follows a "horse for the course" model, which ensures that students are fielded for specific roles that align with their competencies. This approach eliminates the free size fit for all process where students compete for a broad range of roles without specifics.
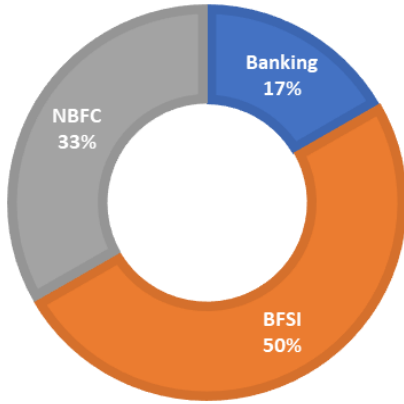

During the Career Track term, two students had the opportunity to work on the 'Request for Problem' project with a major two-wheeler brand. These students have recently been offered final placements by the same company. The various roles ranging from Functional Consultant, Business Analyst, Market Research Analyst, Data Analyst, Digital Marketing & Social Media Analyst, Business Operations, Marketing Analyst, Financial Analyst, to Financial Modelling, across a variety of sectors including IT & ITES, Financial Services, Automotive, Banking, and Manufacturing.

JAGSoM students choose career tracks in MarTech, Business Analytics, FinTech,Capital Market, Banking have experienced a successful placement process as organizations with various new-age job roles participated. Recruiters were pleased with the process, finding the right fit for the roles they came for, without wasting their valuable time.
